Corridor Streetscape Improvements

The City of Airway Heights has completed the landscaping around the second of the newly installed bus shelter along SR-2—the first being the shelter in front of Yokes. The third new shelter, located in front of Zip's Trip will have its landscaping installed in early in 2008. This area has shown marked improvement from years past. Mr. Song, proprietor of the All Seasons Motel, had some work done to level the area and subsequently the City followed that up with what you see today. This type of public and private cooperation is what makes Airway Heights a great place to do business. Look for more cooperation in the future as the city continues to grow and the corridor becomes more vibrant.

Restaurant Reviews

In 2007 two Airway Heights restaurants received good reviews from the Spokane publication—Spokane 7. Tres Fiesta Mexican and Baek Chun Japanese/Korean restaurants were given the thumbs up for their flavorful and traditional cuisine and compared favorably to any similar restaurants in Spokane. In the greater scheme of things Airway Heights can say one thing...and that is the City has a varied and traditional restaurant scene. The next time you visit Airway Heights or have lunch in the city, visit one of our restaurants. If after your visit you find the cuisine to be exceptional log onto Spokane 7 magazine and enter a restaurant review for any of your favorite Airway Heights restaurant.

Rockies Espresso has relocated along Hayford Rd. across from the new Wal-Mart. They also have stores on Fairchild AFB in the Base Exchange and coming to the base Hospital. Drop in to say 'Hi' and have a cup of double shot latte.

As his Eagle Scout project, Cheney High School student Daniel Parker decided to do a project that would help the city's residents that utilize public transportation. That project was to install a bus bench near the City's monument at the corner of Craig Rd. and SR-2. He sought the help of area businesses as well as the City's staff in order to come up with his final plan. The bench, made of pre-fab concrete was donated by Wilbert Precast, Inc. of Spokane and the rock bedding was donated by our own Spokane Rock Products. Airway Heights appreciates all the help both Daniel Parker and the city received in helping make this project a success. Congratulations Daniel on a job well done.

Deck the Halls

Keeping to the tradition of the Holidays, The City of Airway Heights would like to encourage all businesses along the SR-2 corridor to add some touches of the Holiday Season to their business frontages. This can include anything from simple lights strung around your windows to more extensive displays. Any little thing will surely help in giving the business corridor a seasonal touch and in presenting a more welcoming business frontage to your customers.

Airway Heights 1st Annual Winter Festival- Dec 8

The Airway Heights Festival Association, in collaboration with the City of Airway Heights' will hold the first annual Winter Festival held throughout the city on December 8. There will be numerous activities held throughout the day. The day will kick off with Breakfast (and pictures) with Santa held in the community center. Later, a wacky softball tournament will take place at Martella Field in Sunset Park. Team sign-ups are currently being taken. There will also be two Holiday Movies being shown on the big screen inside the Sunset Elementary school gym. Carriage rides will be offered, taking you through the city to view some of the decorated homes. Residents will have an opportunity to win $500 for the best decorated home. As darkness sets in the city will light a bonfire in Sunset Park then proceed to the culminating event...the first Airway Heights Holiday Tree lighting. Bundle up and come on out to help our community celebrate the opening of the Holiday Season. If you need additional information please call 244.2552 or 244.4845, or visit our web page at cawh.org
